More than 1,200 attendees from 22 countries attended OTC's inaugural Arctic Technology Conference.

The Arctic Technology Conference delivered 130+ presentations in four program tracks, Topical Breakfasts and Luncheons, two Plenary speakers and panels on Arctic Regulatory Governance and The Future of Arctic Exploration. Plus an exhibition featuring the innovative technologies and solutions needed for success.

Now the rave reviews are rolling in. Keep reading to see why attendees and exhibitors alike are praising this highly specialized event for the challenging Arctic arena:

"I am extremely pleased with the quality of attendees. We're going home with more than 150 fantastic leads. The way it has been organized has been great and attendance has been excellent, including international attendees. Houston has proven to be an excellent location."

— Steve A. (Exhibitor),
International Sales Manager,
Infield Systems Limited

"ATC gave us great exposure for our products. Compared to a lot of the Arctic shows we've attended this one has been more productive, with more decision makers."

— Mark W. (Exhibitor),
Principal Investment Advisor,
Government of Newfoundland
& Labrador

"Unlike other conferences, this one dedicated time to actual vessel operations and logistical issues. This was great. Need more!"

— Lynn (Attendee),
Anchorage, Alaska

"I hope that this conference continues to be held. The Arctic oil and gas is an important topic for all and industry, government and regulators need to demonstrate consistent monitoring and planning."

— Brady L.(Attendee),
Toronto, Ontario

"I enjoyed the conference. The presentations I attended were very informative."

— Thomas B. (Attendee),
Statoil,
Houston, Texas
